

Sisters of Mercy of the Americas -- Northeast Community

Corporate Stand against Human Trafficking

Adopted March 3, 2014

We, the Sisters of Mercy of the Americas -- Northeast Community and Companions in Mercy denounce all forms of human trafficking within the United States and the international community.

Having listened deeply to the God who speaks in each of us,

- we commit the gift of ourselves to educate about the root causes, consequences and magnitude of human slavery in our world today.
- we will advocate for policies and programs that address the prevention of the trafficking of children, women and men.
- we will minister to survivors freed from any form of modern day slavery.
- we will use our influence as consumers and investors to promote a just society that eliminates the incentives for human trafficking and modern day slavery.
- we will collaborate with others who are also engaged in the struggle of combating trafficking, and share our gifts of prayer, resources, advocacy and education with them.
